The Ministry of Higher Education, Employment and Social Security (MHEESS) has launched the Employment Skills Training Project, with support from the Asian Development Bank, to train 6000 out of school, out of work Maldivian's in high priority occupations. This is part of a plan to expand the technical and vocational education system to meet employers' long term needs for staff and help build the Maldives economic future.

Employers working through Enterprise Sector Committees are setting the competency standards for training in various job classifications. The Workforce Training Fund will finance training of out- of-school youth to meet these standards.

To give the Employment Sector Committees basic planning data, the project will support five Employment Sector Human Resources Studies to determine among other things, the types and categories of employment, the short term and middle term requirement for employment numbers in each category and the existing number and supply of appropriately trained Maldivians.

There will be an information session for Companies or individuals who wish more information or wish to express interest at 2 pm, November 14, 2006 in the 2nd Floor Conference Room, MHEESS, Haveery higu, Mafanu, Male 20, 125
